Beni di Batasiolo is the story of the Dogliani family. The family has lived the world of wine for five generations in Italy's Langhe district, whose vineyards have contributed immensely to making Italian wines famous the world over. In these lands of oblique light and veiled mists, the Dogliani family has lived through the many changes in the recent history of these fields, which perhaps have seen more transformations in the last fifty years than over the centuries before. In 1978, the Dogliani family purchased the historic Kiola winery with its seven "beni," or "estate," in the internationally renowned zone for growing the celebrated Nebbiolo da Barolo grape.

Prunotto

PRUNOTTO BY ANTINORI

Cantina Sociale "Ai Vini delle Langhe", a winemaking co-op, was incorporated in 1904 in the city council room of Serralunga's Town Hall presided by Mr. Giacomo Oddero, a notary public and a youthful Alfredo Prunotto as a witness. Among those present at the ceremony were prominent citizens who made important contributions to the history of Alba and the surrounding communities, as well as many small local producers. The first harvest took place in 1905.

CERETTO
wines

Ceretto is a wine producer in PIEMONTE, making top-quality Barolo and Barbaresco. It was founded by Ricardo Ceretto in 1930 and is famous for being a pioneer of the trend toward single-vineyard Barolo wines. Nebbiolo is the key grape variety, but Ceretto also make wines from Dolcetto, Barbera, Arneis and Moscato. The company grew considerably in the 1970s, and two wineries were constructed: one in Barolo, named Bricco Roche, and one in Barbaresco, known as Bricco Asili. These wineries are both named for vineyard sites in their respective appellations, and were created to produce wines exclusively from single vineyard sites that Ricardo's sons had selected in the mid-20th Century. The first vintage of these "cru" wines was in 1986, from the Bricco Roche vineyard in Barolo. www.ceretto.com

LA SPINETTA
"produrre vini con passione"

In 1977 the family took up residence at LA SPINETTA (meaning "top of the hill") in Castagnole Lanze, located in the heart of the area well-known for Moscato d'Asti, a rather light and simple dessert wine at the time. The Rivetti's believed, however, that Moscato had the potential for greatness and set out to prove it by producing the region's first single-vineyard Moscato wines, Bricco Quaglia and Biancospino. Over time, the family's vision became even grander, and in 1985 LA SPINETTA made its first red wine, Barbera Cà di Pian, with many great reds to follow.

CONTRATTO

"Founded in 1867, Contratto is Italy's oldest Metodo Classico house. It is based in Canelli, PIEMONTE and boasts impressive underground cellars and 45 hectares of vines. Giorgio Rivetti of La Spinetta purchased Contratto in 2011, thus adding sparkling wines, vermouths and bitters to his production line. The vines are located in Alta Langa, and some plantings of Pinot Nero extend up to 850 meters above sea level. Contratto makes about 200,000 bottles per year, and this is seriously some of the best sparkling wine found in Italy distinguished by the distinctive Art Deco designs on the bottle. These wines are very impressive."

The Villa Sparina estate was purchased by the Moccagatta family in the late 1970s long before anyone could imagine how popular Italian white wine would become in the decades to follow. The vineyards stretch over 70 hectares in the northern section of the Gavi appellation where the clay marl soils alternate with diluvial and gravelly soils, ideal for the production of richly flavored white wines with immense aging potential. Lying at altitudes between 250-300 meters a.s.l., the growing sites benefit from the maritime influence of the Mediterranean, about an hour's drive by car. The winery is also known for its distinctive bottle shape. It was inspired by an old bottle that was discovered in the estate's historic cellar.

Tenuta Luisa in Friuli, Italy is a family winery that was founded more than 80 years ago by Francesco Luisa, a widower, who at age 37 bought 12 acres of land for the vineyards while taking care of six children. The Luisa estate boasts unique terroir. The soil of the estate is rich in minerals, including aluminium and iron. The vineyards are located in Friuli near Cormons, which is best suited to fresh and fruity white wine, as well as in the Corona and Mariano, which is suitable for full-bodied, structured red wines. The region borders the Adriatic Sea to the south and the Carnic Alps to the north.

In 1881 Anton Jermann, the founder, left the Austrian wine-growing region of Burgenland and, later, the vines of Slovenia to put down roots in Friuli VENEZIA GIULIA Giulia. Here he continued his winery business, and from the 1970s. Silvio Jermann's combined genius and imagination took the company to success in wine circles, both in Italy and worldwide. Today Jermann estate extends over 200 hectares of which 160 hectares are vineyards and 20 hectares are given over to seed and horticultural crops. This is a company that interacts with the world every day, but its greatest attention is always reserved for the things that make a wine great.

It is the story of a family that endured two world wars, living first in the Austro-Hungarian Empire and then in the young Kingdom of Italy, on the rocky coast of the Istrian peninsula and the lagoon of Grado, before finally settling in the gently rolling hills of Friuli. In Friuli, the name Livio Felluga is synonymous with all that is best in the oenological heritage. The long family tradition extends over five generations, back to the days when the Fellugas were making Refosco and Malvasia in their native Isola d'Istria. Today, the Livio Felluga estate extends over more than 160 hectares of hill country in the Collio and Colli Orientali del Friuli, with 155 hectares planted to vine. The vineyards yield exclusively great wines with instantly recognisable fragrances and aromas. <http://www.liviofelluga.it>

Antinori is one of the most important and appreciated families throughout the world for the production of great wines. To trace the origin of this bond is necessary to go back to 1385, when Giovanni di Piero Antinori joined the Florentine art of Vinattieri. 26 generations have passed by now, but in all these centuries the name Antinori has been able to shine more and more and conquer the palates of many wine lovers. Antinori is synonymous of history and tradition, has now become an integral part of Italian wine culture, the development of which has collaborated in an active, year after year. At the first estates in Tuscany and Umbria others have followed, confirming the passion and vision of this family.

Preserving the viti-vinicultural tradition of the zone and representing innovation in the field of wine production have been Cà Maiol's goals ever since the beginning: objectives that were renewed in 1996 when the estate passed into the hands of the children of the founder, Walter Contato. The new generation inherited his passion for the region, his love for Lugana wine, and his desire to keep on developing and improving the company's outstanding products. As a result, the estate's 130 hectares of land are today the fertile custodians of pioneering winemaking and of a wine with a marked local identity. Thanks to its unique texture and contemporary style, it has succeeded in winning over palates worldwide.

The history of the estate dates all the way back to 1782: historic documents refer to "a house with a cellar located in Lugana di Sirmione, known as the place of the Friars." Indeed, Lombardia, and specifically the Lugana region and surrounding area, is known for producing crisp white wines with incredible verve. In 1939, winegrower Felice Dal Cero moved to this historic house in Lugana di Sirmione and immediately realized the estate's potential for cultivation. The family even took part in the creation of the DOC in 1969.

SANTI

The Santi winery has played a key role in the history of Valpolicella since 1843, the year it was founded in Illasi, an old village at the eastern tip of the Verona district, near the Lessini Mountains. Here, in the shadow of a Mediaeval castle, in the valley known then as Longazera, Carlo Santi founded his cellar to produce wines typical of the district. From the start, the Santi family focused on quality and prime raw materials, using only the best grapes from their own estate's top growing area. The success of the wines persuaded the winery to procure more grapes from local growers, with whom a relationship of trust grew over time and today allows direct management of the vineyards. Today Santi is proposing a range of wines entirely representative of the excellence of Valpolicella and the Tre Venezie.

FOLONARI

Ambrogio and Giovanni Folonari are the heirs of a history that runs through much of Italian wine history. In the 1960s Nino Folonari bought farms in Greve in Chianti: Tenuta del Cabreo in 1967 and Tenuta di Nozzole in 1971. In the year 2000 Ambrogio and Giovanni Folonari, respectively son and grandson of Nino, founded their company, continuing the family history. Today the winery is present in the most important terroirs of Tuscany. From Chianti Classico to Maremma, from Bolgheri to Montepulciano, passing through Montalcino: in each estate an enhancement of the territory and of the cultivated varieties has been implemented, giving rise to wines that combine character, elegance and representation of the areas from which they originate.

Nino Franco winery was founded in 1919 by Antonio Franco. The winery is located in the village of Valdobbiadene, 60 kilometers north of Venice. This is considered the most prestigious and historical Prosecco production zone. Today, Primo Franco and his daughter Silvia run the winery. Primo Franco has pioneered the single vineyard vintage Prosecco production with the aim of showcasing the incredible diversity of the unique terroir of Valdobbiadene. He is one of the very few winemakers who decided to export only Prosecco Doccg. The prestige and quality of this winery are recognized worldwide. Nino Franco was the first winery to introduce a Prosecco to the wine lists of Michelin Star Restaurants in Italy.

Lamberti is named after one of Verona's oldest noble families, which has its own famous tower in the city's Piazza delle Erbe. The winery was founded in 1964 in Cavaion (province of Verona), originally producing just Bardolino Classico. Now Lamberti is one of the Verona district's leading wineries and is known worldwide. The soils in the lake area around the estate are of glacial origin and rich in stones left by the retreating glacier, a fact that inspires the name of our best-selling wines all over the world: "Santepietre", a name containing all the characteristics of the terroir in its bouquet.

In 1897 Caldirola was a simple osteria in Contra, a small hamlet in the Comune of Missaglia where the current Casa Vinicola Caldirola headquarter is based today. At the beginning, the business was small. However, slowly the wine-trade started to become more significant, to eventually establish itself as the main commercial activity of a company that had begun selling wine fifty years ago. The company already boasts significant partnerships with many Italian wine producers as well as with Consortiums for the purchase of very high-quality wines.

SAN PATRIGNANO-EMILIA ROMAGNA-ITALY

A farmhouse in the hills, an estate, a vineyard. The history of San Patrignano winery began in the '70s when Vincenzo Muccioli decided to create a rehabilitation Community based on solidarity. Early on only simple wines were produced – Sangiovese and Trebbiano. The vines were well tended, grapes harvested manually and crushed by foot, there was 1 wine press and 5 wood barrels; that was it. Yet the desire to experiment was irresistible and quickly led to a sparkling wine made from Sangiovese grapes. Over the years, the vines spread to cover over 100 hectares. The turning point came in the '90s: wine quality improved and it became fuller-bodied. Making it an excellent local product became a challenge for the residents. Riccardo Cotarella took up this challenge and changed the production philosophy, rewriting the wine-making history of the territory.

It all officially started on 6 April 1928, and it was just the beginning. Over the years, the family grew, the workload increased and his sons Umberto, Franco, Romano and Piergiorgio also helped with what had by now become a company. Cavicchioli expanded, along with the rest of Italy. The 1950s were characterised by reconstruction. Italy, poor but always beautiful, gambled with its creativity and won. The 1960s arrived along with cars, even though a Lambretta scooter was more often used for getting about. It was used, for instance, for the six-kilometre journey from San Prospero, where Cavicchioli bottled its wine, to Bomperto, the hamlet of Sorbara, where grapes were processed in a new building in a central position on the estate. Bomperto and the family became even closer.

The operating nucleus of the property, from early 2000, is in proximity of Istia d'Ombone, nearby Grosseto. The property is an antique farmhouse and its silhouette is present in some of the most recognizable wine labels of Le Pupille, the whole winery is surrounded by a 12 hectares vineyard, including a small patch destined to an experimentation of old Sangiovese grapes, coming from ancient vine rows. At first it is difficult to imagine that this large, quiet house is the beating heart of an agricultural activity, it rather seems like a noble residency surrounded by a large english style lawn and a myriad of flowers. Then the smell of must reveals the presence of a winery hidden by ivy, and once one enters the well-finished environment, the offices and tasting room appear like a succession of drawing rooms that the house owner has made to be warm and welcoming.

Melini
Casa Fondata nel 1715

Melini's Gaggiano winery is based at 300 metres asl, on the Chianti Classico hills, along the road from Poggibonsi to Castellina in Chianti. Here, next to the original ancient block, a modern four-floor cellar was built on the hillside between 1970 and 1974. It was designed to put in place separate production for each vineyard, and apply the cru technique. All winemaking processes, from the drying rooms to barrel ageing and bottling, are undertaken using specific techniques that pursue the quality philosophy.

In 1977 the family took up residence at LA SPINETTA (meaning "top of the hill") in Castagnole Lanze, located in the heart of the area well-known for Moscato d'Asti, a rather light and simple dessert wine at the time. The Rivetti's believed, however, that Moscato had the potential for greatness and set out to prove it by producing the region's first single-vineyard Moscato wines, Bricco Quaglia and Biancospino. Over time, the family's vision became even grander, and in 1985 LA SPINETTA made its first red wine, Barbera Cà di Pian, with many great reds to follow.

Antinori is one of the most important and appreciated families throughout the world for the production of great wines. To trace the origin of this bond is necessary to go back to 1385, when Giovanni di Piero Antinori joined the Florentine art of Vinattieri. 26 generations have passed by now, but in all these centuries the name Antinori has been able to shine more and more and conquer the palates of many wine lovers. Antinori is synonymous of history and tradition, has now become an integral part of Italian wine culture, the development of which has collaborated in an active, year after year. At the first estates in Tuscany and Umbria others have followed, confirming the passion and vision of this family.

The estate's name comes from the historical farm that once stood there, owned by the Count of Bracci, whose coat of arms appears on the estate's logo; an arm covered with armor brandishing a sword. Marchesi Antinori has owned the estate since 1990. La Braccasca estate's property extends over an area of 508 hectares (1255 acres), of which 340 hectares (840 acres) are planted with vines. Two very different personalities live side by side in complete harmony: the traditional Nobile di Montepulciano and the innovative Syrah in Cortona, an emerging wine producing area with great potential.

The first vintage of Santa Cristina was produced in 1946, becoming in time a point of reference for connoisseurs, not only through an unwavering commitment to quality. Just like a good story, Santa Cristina never gets old. The care and attention always oriented to follow up the winemaking were also fundamental to search for a continue innovation and dealing with indigenous and international varieties, giving rise to a family of different products but bears the same style, the result of an indissoluble link between the vineyard, terroir and man's work. The products of the family Santa Cristina were born from this simple philosophy, thanks to a continuous bond with the land. Since 1946, continues this dedication, to still preserve the quality of Santa Cristina. <https://www.santacristina.wine>

TENUTA DI BISERNO BY ANTINORI-TOSCANA-ITALY

The Tenuta di Biserno estate extends to over 40 hectares and is situated at 90 metres above sea level. The soils are very stoney, they are principally alluvial, with some calcareous clay, rich in calcium carbonate. The vineyards are cultivated mainly with Cabernet Franc, Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon and Petit Verdot. The combination of the maritime influence of the nearby Mediterranean, and the distinct aspects of different vineyards, results in the two distinct production styles of Biserno and Il Pino di Biserno.

Leonardo da Vinci Winery was founded in 1961 when thirty small winegrowers decided to combine forces in order to share their passion for winemaking and the costs of building a single cellar to produce wine from the red and white grapes in this territory. When the winery was founded in Vinci, in the Chianti winegrowing area in the heart of Tuscany, it only consisted of 70 hectares of vineyards. Over the last fifty years the cooperative has expanded enormously. Leonardo da Vinci Winery today is a cooperative of nearly 200 partners sharing the objective of guaranteeing the highest quality of the grapes delivered to the winery. <https://www.leonardodavinci.it/>

CASTELLO DI GABBIANO-TOSCANA-ITALY

In 2011 Federico Cerelli joined Gabbiano (Castello di Gabbiano at the time) after 10 years of experience at prestigious Italian wineries with full responsibility for important winemaking projects, especially in Tuscany and the Chianti Classico wine regions. Federico brought his intense knowledge and passion to Gabbiano; his continuous research for quality and innovation has been a great asset for the winery. He trusts in the most traditional practices, which have become renowned in the region as being a benchmark, but also leverages modern technology that he believes allows Gabbiano to replicate the oldest methods with maximum control and precision.

Tua Rita makes some of Italy's most exciting and collectable red wines. Its story began in 1984, when Virgilio Bisti and his wife Rita Tua purchased a small two-hectare property in Suvereto in the Alta Maremma, with just half a hectare of Sangiovese. In the beginning, their dream was simply to have a more rural life close to the land, but soon a passion for wine took over.

Plantings on the Estate began in 2003 and the choice of varieties and rootstocks was strongly influenced by the soil and environmental conditions of the various vineyard sites at Poggio al Tesoro. The sandier, stonier soils were planted with more powerful grape varieties such as Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc. Soils rich in clay and minerals, on the other hand, are better suited to varieties such as Merlot which produces wines that are elegant, harmonious and full-flavoured. In the Via Bolgherese vineyard, a light tilling of the soil keeps the ground cool and aerated, while at Le Sondaie, grass is grown between each row of vines (throughout winter and spring) to inhibit vigour and maintain the best possible temperature/humidity ratio.

In the era of the Green Economy, San Polo is one of the most innovative and experimental wineries in Montalcino, founded on principles of eco-sustainability, green architecture and social responsibility. The winery at Podernovi, built mostly underground, fits seamlessly into the surrounding landscape, and uses a sophisticated thermo-hydraulic system which ensures that the temperature and humidity of the winery are controlled in a natural way. In 2013 San Polo received CasaClima Wine certification, a seal of quality established to quantify and communicate the efforts of wineries towards greater sustainability. Organic viticultural protocols have been in use since 2014, and in 2017, San Polo obtained official organic viticulture certification.

Velenosi winery was established in 1984 thanks to the strong will of two young entrepreneurs, Angela and Ercole Velenosi. In 2005 a new partner joined the company, Mr. Paolo Garbini, and the company became Velenosi Srl. The winery's vineyards are cascading on hills at about 200-300 metres above sea level, outlined by a valley and the river Tronto. Here, the soil is mainly composed of clay and limestone, making it highly suitable for the production of quality wines.

Vigneti del Vulture from the region Basilicata, situated between Puglia and Campania, belongs to the winery Farnese / Fantini . From old vines of the local grape varieties Aglianico, Greco and Fiano, modern wines with crystal clear stylistics and great freshness are produced here, often in very high vineyard locations around 800m above sea level. All the wines stand out for their excellent price-performance ratio.

TORMARESCA BY ANTINORI-PUGLIA-ITALY

TORMARESCA BY ANTINORI

Began working in the Apulia region in 1998 under Tormaresca label in the region's Murgia and Alto Salento areas. This was another case – maybe even the best example – of redeeming marvelous terroir. Wine has been made on the plateaus of the “heel” of the Italian boot since the time of the ancient Greeks. Until just a few years ago, this region was the largest producer of wine grapes in the entire country. However, most of the grapes were exported. As soon as they were cut from the vines, they were sent elsewhere in Italy and around the world, where they were used to make table wine.

Vigneti del Salento, a Farnese Vini winery, is located in Puglia—the heel of the boot of Italy. This peninsula is an old wine growing area dating back to the ancient Greeks. It is a very hot region cooled by nighttime maritime breezes. Vigneti del Salento has a special arrangement with the many growers in this region. The winemaking team carefully selects the best portions of each vineyard depending on clones, position in the vineyard and age of vines. They then direct the farming of these vineyard rows including reducing the yield per vine, to ensure the highest quality grapes. Since most of the vineyards are family owned, they tend to be smaller, allowing complete harvesting of all the vineyards in about 3 days.

The Castello Monaci estate is housed in a 16th century castle with medieval foundations once run by Basilian monks who maintained a long wine-making tradition. Lina Memmo, whose family has owned the estate since the 19th century, and husband Vitantonio Seracca Guerrieri, currently own the property. Each vineyard parcel is cultivated, harvested—always at night to ensure the best quality of grapes—and vinified separately in small tanks. The area dedicated to aging wines is a spectacular barrel cellar dug out of the hard rock that houses 1,000 barriques and 18 French oak barrels.

The history of the Torrevento Estate begins in the heart of the Alta Murgia National Park, the first countryside park in Italy, in 1400, in the "Torre del Vento" (Tower of the Wind) district, a Benedictine monastery was constructed entirely of stone. Torre del Vento is a name that will mark our history, a history that starts in 1913, when Francesco Liantonio (grandfather of the namesake Francesco, current President of the firm Torrevento Ltd.) just barely 16 years of age, decided to board the ship "Hamburg", bound for New York, in search of fortune. Today, the bucolic character of the wine production is still the strength of our company. In a rugged and stony territory, we take advantage of the indigenous grape varieties best suited for expressing the winemaking vocation of the whole Apulian region.

It all began in 1880, when the notary Paolo Pellegrino, a passionate wine grower, founded the winery destined to become one of the most important in SICILIA. But the vision that pushed him to create a dream was an act of redemption and love for Marsala wine. From that moment that dream led the family to change the fate of Sicilian wine, with male authority and female sensitivity, qualities melted together and handed down from generation to generation. Today Carlo Pellegrino owns three operational units, including the historical cellar in Marsala, with a total capacity of 200,000 hectoliters (of which 40,000 in oak casks), a second vinification cellar, in contrada Cardilla, downtown Marsala, with a capacity of 7,000 hectoliters.

VIGNETI ZABU

VINI DI SICILIA

Lying on a hill, in the Belice Valley, where a lush vegetation surrounds the town, Sambuca di Sicilia is rich in myths and local legends. The origin of the name came from its founder, the Arab emir Al Zabuth the Charming, who gave to the town a great impetus for the revival of agriculture. The country was inhabited since the ancient times and there are lots of archaeological finds that show how during the centuries, generations of farmers reached high quality targets, always with respect to nature. These are the perfect conditions for a viticulture characterized by unique qualities. The art of winemaking can create nothing more than what the grapes contain in nature: this is the reason why our wines are so good. Vines completely integrated with the soil, since the ancient times, finding a unique natural habitat; the experience and passion of the farmers

MORGANTE

The Morgante family had been involved in viticulture for four generations when, in the 1990s, they decided to vinify their own grapes in the deep south of Sicily. Located in the sun-drenched hills of the province of Agrigento, close to the town of Grotte, the winery has undergone a major transformation since the end of its long history of selling bulk cask wines. The new direction has been accompanied by the pursuit of growth and the highest quality, and the classic family business led by Antonio Morgante has quickly become one of the best and best-known red wine producers on the island.

FIRRIATO

Terroir, identity, quality, pure Sicilian. Firriato is, among the largest quality wine producers, the winery that, in less than three decades, has been successful in finding its own original and specific style of production. Started in 1978 from Trapani countryside, Firriato grew always looking for those terroirs - very characterizing - where it's possible to practice a precision viticulture, dedicated to enhancing the varieties of the Sicilian tradition. Today Firriato also embraces the Etna and the island of Favignana, part of the Egadi archipelago, with limited niche productions, aimed to an audience of sophisticated and innovative wine-lovers.

CANTINA
CELLARO

Cantina Cellaro was founded in 1972, about the same time as Cantina Settesoli, and long before Donnafugata or Planeta. The winery is located in Sambuca di Sicilia, near Menfi and SICILIA's south-western coast. After a strategic agreement between Cantine Cellaro and Farnese Vini, the range of the wines has been revised, both in terms of how the wines are produced and how they are presented. Since the winery's expansion in number and area of vineyards and thanks to the company's partners, the process of mapping and classifying of the territory has begun. This has allowed them to isolate which areas are most suited to specific varietals. Now, Cantine Cellaro now represents 1000 growers with approximately 1700 hectares under vine.

It was 1968 when Hugues Bernard, Count de la Gatinais, born in Saint-Malo in France in 1940, and a French navy officer for eight years, married Gigi Guarrasi, descendent of one of Palermo's great families. The couple embarked on an exciting, intrepid adventure, modernizing of the cellars destroyed by the earthquake in the Valle del Belice. The Count's main interest was varietal and farming conversion of the vineyards, and three decades ago he began to add venerable French varieties alongside his native vines. Now the project initiated by Hugues de la Gatinais and his wife Gigi is pursued by their son Laurent, with the same care and passion. apitalà is one of SICILIA's most prestigious wineries and the undisputed star of the island's renewed winemaking scenario. www.rapitala.it

In 1899, Mr. Sella (an engineer) and Mr. Mosca (a lawyer) from PIEMONTE, purchased the land bordering the pretty, historic port of Alghero on the northern coast, to establish a nursery for rootstocks. At the time, phylloxera was ravaging Europe, but as Sardinia is detached from the mainland, the island could harvest phylloxera-free baby vines, which were then sold in other regions of Italy and southern Europe. The winery's unique logo depicts a wine-pressing scene inspired by Egypt's Old Kingdom. It is believed to be a stylized reproduction of a scene shown on a low relief in the mastaba of Mereruka tomb, Vizier of King Teti, in Saqqara, Egypt. The relief depicts five men using long poles to press the grapes contained in a sack, so that the juice filters through the fabric and falls into the jar below.

Created in 1911 with first vintage 1905, Champagne Salon is the creation of one man, a champagne connoisseur enchanted then seduced by the terroir of Le Mesnil. At the beginning of the 20th century he just created the Blanc de Blancs. The first known vintage was 1905. Now that the tragedy of the war was over, he was encouraged by his numerous friends to profit more fully from his wine and the house of Salon was created, to cater for his new clientele.

Built in the 17th century, Château Loudenne is one of the oldest Crus Bourgeois properties. Château Loudenne had many owners until 1875 when it was sold to two English brothers, Walter and Alfred Gilbey. The Gilbeys were influential wine and spirit merchants in London and producers of the gin of the same name. The wines of Loudenne prospered in the British trade and even survived two world wars. In March of 2000, the Château was bought by the Lafrayette family who had established their reputation in the Cognac industry. In 2013, the estate was purchased by the Moutai group from the Guizhou province in southern China.

Domaine
Roc de l'Abbaye

Florian, Jean-Paul's son, started managing the family's estate and continuing his father's hard work. Credited for his talent in winemaking, Florian built a modern cellar next to the Clos du Roc parcel and successfully enlarged the family estate up to 17ha. Thanks to his expertise in France and abroad (Australia, South-Africa...) combined with his profound knowledge of flint (Silex) terroir, his wines have become the reference for epicureans in search for freshness, chiselled minerality, and refined aromas.

The story of the Lavau family, with its passion for wine and love of the terroir and the land, began in Saint-Emilion in the 19th century. The story then continued on the other side of the Mediterranean Sea, in Tunisia. René Lavau moved there in 1870 and turned a small estate planted with vines and orange trees into a flourishing business. Thanks, in particular, to the energy and dedication of his son Jean, the family estate quickly became the country's biggest wine producer. In 1962, after Tunisia regained its independence, Jean-Guy Lavau, Jean's son, and his wife Anne-Marie decided to return to France and to take charge of a small winemaking cellar in Sablet which Jean had purchased a few years earlier.

PAUL JABOULET AÎNÉ-RHÔNE VALLEY-FRANCE

PAUL JABOULET AÎNÉ has been a part of the Rhône Valley wine industry for almost two centuries, beginning with a small plot of land on the hills of Hermitage, before expanding throughout the region. Today, it encompasses more than 100 hectares (250 acres) of vineyards making wines from the northern and southern Rhône, including Hermitage, Crozes-Hermitage, Châteauneuf-du-Pape, Condrieu and Cornas. In 1834, Antonie Jaboulet began working the hills of Hermitage, growing and cultivating the vines that would lay the framework for future generations. On his death, the estate was passed to his sons Henri and Paul, the latter eventually giving his name to wines and the company. The maison was passed through the Jaboulet family until the purchase by the Frey family in 2006.

In 1958, the Sumeire family who have owned the Font-Freye estate since 1933, acquired this large estate near Pierrefeu, within the Var region. Formerly the summer residence of the archbishops of Toulon, this property bears two names inherited from its long past. Château la Tour de l'Évêque and Château la Tour Sainte Anne. Its past belongs to the history of Provence and France. Queen Mary, Countess of Provence, gave privileges on this land to the inhabitants from the village of Cuers.

CHATEAU ROUTAS-CÔTES DE PROVENCE-FRANCE

AOC Coteaux Varois en Provence attained its official status in 1993. The region encompasses a wide variety of soils and elevations, with Chateau Routas situated at the center, about an hour north of Bandol. Well known among rock climbers for its limestone cliffs, the Varois is gaining recognition as a wine region through the efforts of serious producers like Chateau Routas. The region's reds can display a robust, RHÔNE-like richness, and its whites show breeding and verve.

MANZANOS

Far from sticking to the most obvious, the nurturing potential that it has for our fruit, water is a reflection of life itself, of the lives that have passed and marked our wine, which are nothing less than 5 generations and counting. Each life has left its mark, has made furrows and built its own course, to help the next one flow, the same way water creates courses and rivers that make it all easier. All these lives erode and shape their way the landscape, to create the world as we know it. Water represents our history, the history that we are telling you in these pages, that moves forward as life itself and that builds, with a lot of work, our know-how of these 127 years that we have been making history.

The Fernández Rivera family planted the first vineyards in 1987. They did so on the banks of the Duero River, in a land that is already mythical. Currently, Condado de Haza has 200 hectares of 100% Tempranillo vineyards, the characteristic grape of the four wineries of Familia Fernández Rivera. To perfect its wines, all made with Tempranillo, the structure of this winery was designed by excavating a hill. In addition, it has a bottle rack located in a tunnel almost 30 meters deep.

The 1970's brought the realization of a lifetime dream for a young and determined Alejandro Fernández. Propelled by his conviction that wines of superb quality could once again be made in the place of his birth, he went against the movement of the time, when cereal and beetroot dominated the Ribera hillsides, and planted Tempranillo vineyards in his hometown of Pesquera. In 1982, this iconic winemaking pioneer, who came to be recognized as the "Master of Tempranillo," was the keystone in forming the now-famous D.O. Ribera del Duero, a designation that Alejandro helped to create with only a few other winemaking pioneers.

The history of Familia Fernández Rivera began with the ingenuity of Alejandro Fernández and Esperanza Rivera. Together they created—according to Robert Parker—one of the best wines in the world. The vineyards of El Vinculo are located at an altitude between 750 and 650 metres on semi-flat terrain running downward from north to south, facing south, in La Mancha. 80 hectares in total the average vine age is 25 years on mix of sand and clay soils. The wine is aged for 24 months in American oak barrels and 12 months in the bottle before release.

Quinta do Zambujeiro

The Quinta was purchased by a Swiss wine lover in 1998, and consists of 30 hectares of vines, some as old as 30 years and others newly planted. They are the usual Alentejo varieties of Castelao Frances, Trincadeira, Aragonez and Alicante Bouschet, together with Touriga Nacional and some Cabernet Sauvignon. Two wines are made, the flagship Zambujeiro (5–8000 bottles) and Terra do Zambujeiro (20–30 000 bottles). New French oak is used in the cellars (100% for first wine, 65% for second), and malolactic fermentation is in barrel. No filtering. Winemaking responsibilities lie with brothers Philippe and Alain Bramaz.

DOMÄNE WACHAU

Domäne Wachau, led by Roman Horvath MW and Heinz Frischengruber, has developed into one of the top estates in Austria, with an excellent range of Wachau wines that beautifully reflect origin. The small vineyard plots in the steep terraces along the Danube river are cultivated by vintner families – the true heroes of the estate – through their intensive manual work. Craftsmanship, sustainability, and the unique biodiversity are the pillars of the vineyards that Domäne Wachau manages. Many of these vineyards are world-famous, including Achleiten, Kellerberg and Singerriedel. The estate is also known for its extensive wine tourism offerings.

Year zero for the Movia estate, as some would say, dates back to Anno Domini 1820 when the family's daughter married Mr Kristančič. Ever since the estate has been cultivating grapevines, alongside traditional fruit production so characteristic of the Brda region, with increasing success and ingenuity. The Movia estate has existed since 1700 and has been in the hands of the Kristančič family since 1820 following a wedding. The estate covers 18 hectares of land, half of which lie on the Italian side of the Collio. Movia is renowned for his passionate embrace of organic and biodynamic farming practises.

In 1900, when Georges de Latour's wife, Fernande, first laid eyes on the land that would become our original Rutherford vineyard, she said "Quelle beau lieu!" or "What a beautiful place." Shortly thereafter, de Latour sold his thriving cream of tartar business, bought the four-acre ranch, and founded Beaulieu Vineyard with the vision of making Napa Valley wines that would rival those of his native France.

PATZ & HALL

Patz & Hall was founded in 1988 by four talented individuals: Donald Patz, James Hall, Anne Moses and Heather Patz. The two discovered a mutual enthusiasm for a rich and compelling style of wine made by applying traditional winemaking techniques to fruit from elite, small vineyards. Inspired to combine their winemaking and sales talents, James and Donald joined with partners Anne Moses and Heather Patz, to establish Patz & Hall.

La Celia was born in 1882, the year in which Eugenio Bustos, its founder, decided to move south of the river Tunuyan in order to develop an estate where he planted the first Malbec vine from France. The construction of the winery started in 1890, and was the first one to settle in the Uco Valley. The winery was named La Celia in honour of Eugenio's daughter, Celia Bustos. When she inherited the property, she used her strong personality and leadership to convert them into prosperous vineyards of worldwide quality. In 2000, La Celia was acquired by the Viña San Pedro Tarapacá Wine Group, a leading company in the wine business both in Chile and Argentina. Our winery is located in Isla de Maipo, which is considered as the finest and most traditional area for the production of fine wines in Chile. The estate is comprised of 2,600 hectares, of which 611 are planted with vineyards. It is a unique place surrounded by mountains and the river Maipo. For this reason, the El Rosario Estate is known as "Maipo Valley's Natural Clos".

HARAS DE PIRQUE BY ANTINORI

The vineyards are located south of the Maipo River, between 550 and 660 meters above sea level, in the northern foothills of the Andes. The climate is semi-arid Mediterranean, highly influenced by the proximity of the mountain range and the Pacific Ocean anticyclone that rises through the open valley, thus providing specific characteristics to this enclave that allow the interaction of unique climatic factors. Rains have a marked seasonality and are mainly concentrated

LeoBuring

The Leo Buring riesling legend began in 1945 when he bought his first vineyard and began building what became Chateau Leonay at Tanunda in the Barossa Valley. In 1955 John Vickery joined Leo Buring as winemaker. Vickery was pivotal in creating the great name for riesling that Leo Buring still enjoys. Today Leo Buring is part of Treasury Wine Group, the winemaker is Peter Munro, and since 1999 Leo Buring has made only riesling.

Looking at the Mount Langi Ghiran vineyard today it is hard to believe that it started out as a scrub block with a scattering of tin sheds. In 1970 an Italian immigrant family, the Fratin, had dreams of creating a little piece of Veneto here in Australia. They worked hard at clearing the land to make way for their vines and chestnuts. Finally, Don, Lino and Serge Fratin replanted the first vines on Mount Langi Ghiran and in doing so, created the iconic "Langi" Old Block Shiraz.

KIMURA CELLARS was established by a Japanese winemaker Shigehisa Kimura (nicknamed Shige), in Marlborough in 2009. Shige started to go to wine appreciation courses when he worked for a top hotel in Tokyo. He was quickly absorbed by wines and became a qualified sommelier. A trip to France to see some vineyards and wineries inspired his winemaking venture to train as a winemaker in New Zealand. He decided to move to New Zealand to study winemaking in 2004. Shige finally fulfilled his dream of making his own wine in 2009.
